Quilter's Square

a day ago · 🌐

This is very hard for us to say and it was the hardest decision I think either of us has ever made.

Wednesday, July 24th will be our last day open as a brick and mortar store. We have loved being here and a part of this amazing community for 42 years. This is very bittersweet for us. Please come out Tuesday or Wednesday to shop the sale and say a final goodbye to Quilter's Square. We will still be offering quilting, making quilts, repairing quilts. If we have a machine, quilt, or project of yours, we will contact you when it is finished and coordinate picking it up! You will still be able to purchase from us online for the foreseeable future. As always, we will remain here for y'all in any way we can. We love you all more than you could ever know. Thank you so much for being the best customers and chosen family that we could have ever asked for. ❤️
